ADVANCE GUARD OFF FOR TEXAS TO FIX UP CAMP.

Three Companies on Way;
Throngs Bid Them
Godspeed.

Two companies of the Second Infantry and one company of the Seventh Infantry are on their way to their training camp in Houston, Tex. They are to put up camp in shape for their comrades who will follow. Plans to move the advance guard of the other regiments of the guard are under way and it will be only a matter of days before they will depart.

Throngs of friends marched through the streets with the troops. Patriotic and determination to win were written on the faces of all. There was little of the weeping that usually accompanies such an event.

Solemn, but Not Sad.
The two companies of the Second and Seventh Infantry were met at the armory where they marched for the train. The big building was thronged with relatives and friends. Here and there little groups of family groups most of them were weeping in low tones. It was a solemn occasion, but not a sad one.

The White Star society, a woman's club, made up of the wives, mothers, and daughters of the men of the regiment, presented each man with a comfort bag. This bag contains everything from sewing apparatus to shoestrings.

The regimental band accompanied the men on their march down Jackson boulevard to the station. Sidewalk throngs cheered the boys as they passed. Capt. David Van Natta and Perry Daubensfeld are in command of the companies of the Second.

Autos for the Seventh.
The Seventh Infantry armory was also the scene of a reception for the men who are leaving for the south. The men did not march to the station, but rode in automobiles. The band preceded them and led a parade around the loop. They met the Second at the station and they entered together. Capt. Samuel Sorenson is in command of the company.

Artillery Battery Going.
The Second artillery's going soon, too—that is one battery of it. Orders received at the Streeterville camp yesterday told the men they were about to enter the first leg of their journey to Berlin—at least they hope it's Berlin. The orders were not specific as to the time of departure, but it is thought it will not be later than tomorrow.

The whole day was spent in getting the advance battery in shape to go. All the equipment was packed into transport wagons and prepared to move. There are 180 men in the battery. Capt. J. W. Mattia is in command. The other officers are First Lieutenants G. F. Farnsworth, C. C. Rogers and Second Lieutenants J. J. Zippert and J. M. Moley. The balance of the remainder of the regiment will be taken when the regiment goes south.

Fire engineers received orders to move one company. The exact time of departure is not known, but it is thought this company will leave with the advance battery. The company—Company G—which has been named as the advance company for the regiment to its southern camp is ready. Most of the day was spent in putting the finishing touches on the equipment.

The field day at the Second artillery detracted somewhat from the excitement of having a battery preparing for the long trip south. The event was attended by about 1,000 people. Track and field events were on the program. All the batteries had teams and the competition was as keen as that any college or high school meet.

OFFICERS' HOTEL AT CAMP GRANT, NEW PROPOSAL

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—A plan of a hotel to contain 250 rooms is the latest solution proposed for the problem of providing living quarters for officers who will come to Camp Grant and their families.

Provisional plans for a hotel were outlined at a meeting today of the chamber of commerce housing committee. A proposition was then forwarded to Capt. Hilberg and other Fort Sheridan officers interested.

It is proposed to erect the hotel on the Rockford road within easy proximity to Camp Grant as the Chicago committee may desire.

The erection of a hotel may be a better plan than that of building a large number of houses for an officers' colony, President John Camlin said. "The local committee has the conservation of heat and other service in view in the hotel project. The Rockford committee proposes a frame building of temporary construction."

The cantonment committee several days ago obtained an option on twenty-five acres of land at the edge of Camp Grant as a site for officers' homes.

Gen. Thomas H. Barry inspected Camp Grant today. He was accompanied by Col. McNeill and Capt. Wilson. He was favorably impressed by the progress made.

COMMITTEES FOR PARADE NAMED

Gov. Lowden announced yesterday he would appoint committees to arrange for the Chicago parade of drafted men which will precede the departure of the men. Plans are being made to lead the march over Michigan avenue, under which the soldiers will march. Marshall & Fox, architects, have offered a design and placed an expert designer at the disposal of the committee in charge to work out details.

ILLINOIS TROOPS WILL MOBILIZE AT LONG ISLAND

First Field Artillery and Others Ordered to Go East.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—The First Illinois field artillery and the troops from Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Michigan and other states forming the new Forty-second national guard division have been ordered to mobilize at Mineola, Long Island, to prepare for embarkation to France.

Details of entrainment at the division of which the First field artillery is a unit are left to Gen. Barry, who will have jurisdiction over the troop movements until the divisional troops are turned over to Gen. Bell, commanding the eastern department.

No cantonment or camp will be constructed at Mineola, as this place has been designated as a mobilization point rather than a training camp. The guardsmen of the "rainbow division" will get their training on the other side.

Accommodations for Men.
There are at present at Mineola all the water and sewerage accommodations necessary for a soldiers' camp, even temporary, as there is now an aviation training field, with a large military force, at Mineola.

The guardsmen will make their own tented camp on the grounds when they arrive at the mobilization point, which already has been named Camp Albert L. Mills, after Maj. Gen. Mills, former chief of the militia bureau, who died a year and a half ago.

Arrangements for embarkation of the 10,000 men of the national guard division will be made by the embarkation service, organization of which was announced by the war department today.

Brig. Gen. Kernan in Charge.
The new office will have charge of embarkation of troops and supplies for transatlantic transportation. Its chief will be Brig. Gen. Francis J. Kernan, one of the officers promoted to major general yesterday, and Col. Chauncey Baker, transportation expert of the quarter-master corps and one of the nine military observers who recently returned from the French front.

SIBERT PROUD OF SHOWING BY ARMY IN FRANCE

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, AUG. 15.—The first contingent of the American expeditionary force was reviewed today by Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert, the American commander. This was the first time that the troops in France had been all together. The review was a splendid military display and Gen. Sibert said he was immensely proud of the men. French officers present were very much impressed.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

American soldiers will be in the trenches in a very short time, according to a forecast made today by the French general commanding the troops giving the Sammites their lessons in trench fighting.

"The first American contingent will be ready to begin actual fighting very soon unless difficulties now unexpected interrupt their training," said the general. He was sitting in his office with Gen. Sibert.

"The Americans have made surprisingly rapid progress with the French fighting methods," he said. "They have made their training a work of pleasure by regarding bayonet, grenade, and rifle drills as sport. They didn't like trench digging, but it is just as much a matter of life and death as bombing and shooting the Germans."

Twenty New Ambulance Chiefs.
PARIS, Aug. 14.—Twenty additional members of the American ambulance service serving with the French army, comprising section 20, have successfully completed their retraining for officers of ambulance sections and will go out soon at the head of newly arriving sections.

ANTI-PICKETERS ATTACK WOMEN AND EX-ENVOY

'String Him Up,' Crowd
Shouts When Hale
Rescues Girl.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—In spite of an order issued by Secretary Daniels forbidding any one "connected with the navy in any capacity" to take part in the attacks on the suffragists, at the White House gates or elsewhere, sailors in uniform were moving spirits in a crowd which from noon until after 6 o'clock tonight attacked women who appeared on the streets with suffrage banners.

Of the fifty banners destroyed today, only two bore inscriptions. One of these was the "Kaiser Wilson" banner which started yesterday's riot, and the other a banner calling on the president to "do his bit for democracy at home."

Hale to the Rescue.
Aroused at the sight of a man tearing a banner from a girl and then tripping her to the pavement, William Bayard Hale, who had just left the executive offices, paused at the worst gate of the White House and helped Miss Katherine Morey of Massachusetts to her feet. Mr. Hale, who was one of President Wilson's special envoys to Mexico, has not been in Washington recently, and he turned indignantly on the crowd with the remark that only cowards attack women.

"He's a German. String him up," came the answer, and for the next few moments Mr. Hale was showered with spitballs and paper pellets.

Woman Dragged in Mud.
At the same time, at the east gate of the White House, Miss Alice Paul of Philadelphia, was several times assailed and was dragged for twenty feet along the sidewalk, wet and muddy after a hard rain.

from Now On.

PACIFIC PORT, Aug. 15.—

All doubts and misconceptions which may have existed between Japan and the United States have been wholly cleared away in the three days which have elapsed since a Japanese mission landed here, Viscount K. Ishii, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary, declared in an address here tonight.

"You have convinced my government and people that the heart of the great west is all right," he said, "and that friendly co-operation from now on is to be the keynote of all relations between America and Japan."

The ambassador, after three days of entertainment, turned the tables and gave a dinner to Breckinridge Long, third assistant secretary of state, and his staff, the army and navy officers assigned to the mission, and state and city officials who have participated in their welcome.

GERMAN PLOTS HASTEN CHINA AS WAR ENTRANT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—China's official explanation of the declaration of a state of war with Germany and Austria-Hungary, in the form of a statement by the foreign office, was received tonight at the Chinese legation here. It said:

"In view of the many kinds of German intrigues seeking to create disorder in China, the Chinese government found it impossible to wait for the convocation of parliament before declaring the existence of a state of war with Germany, especially since the rupture of diplomatic relations with the imperial German government had been previously approved by parliament almost unanimously."

Austria-Hungary has all along been acting in concert with the German imperial government. Moreover, the Austrians, like the Germans, have special settlements in China, which might easily be used by Germans, who speak the same language as Austrians, as a base of operation for further intrigues, thereby rendering the situation still more difficult for China to cope with.

The Chinese government, therefore, was unable to adopt a different attitude toward Austria-Hungary, but was constrained, as an act of self-protection, simultaneously to accord her the same treatment as was accorded Germany."

NEW OFFICERS KNOW GRAVITY OF WORK AHEAD

Recent Frolics Forgotten
as They Formally Enter Nation's Service.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Three thousand of Uncle Sam's new officers left here today with serious faces.

For the last day or so they have been free a great part of the time. There has been considerable horse play lying on their cots in the darkness following taps, they have sung choruses after choruses of the songs that carried them through their training hikes. More than one pillow fight has enlivened the night, and there has been considerable "rough house" during the afternoon. But they all got their orders for active service this morning. They marched up before Col. W. J. Nicholson (soon to be a brigadier general) and reported for duty.

Officers of the Army.
New gold cords were on their bright insignia upon their shoulders. They were officers of the United States army.

When Col. Nicholson's question from each company instructor whether all were present had been answered, he spoke briefly to the men.

"I consider, and the war department considers now," he said, "that you have reported for duty. You are army officers now. I congratulate you. But it was after each man had received his order to report to a specific commander for actual army work at the end of the next two weeks, or even before that time, that the camp visitors was impressed with the conviction that the men knew they were 'in the war.'"

Long Grind on New Orders.
The preparation of the final orders for every man was a long job that held many in camp until late in the day, but at nightfall almost all the students, except some of those designated as instructors for the second camp beginning Aug. 27, had departed.

It is expected that Maj. H. L. A. Cavendish, senior instructor, and Maj. James S. Parker, commanding officer of the Illinois regiment, will be elevated to lieutenant colonels through the big promotion now taking place.

RETALIATION BY U. S. MAY HALT IMPRESSMENT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—Reports of American citizens being impressed into the German armies and recurring protests against the drafting of partly naturalized foreigners in this country are presenting some difficult problems for the government's international law experts.

It became known today that an official inquiry had been begun at Berlin. It is admitted that, even should the report prove true, there is little this government could do except retaliate. The idea of retaliatory methods is repugnant, but officials are withholding a decision.

FRENCH FRONT

BRITISH

LONDON.—This morning Canadian troops stormed German positions south and east of Loos on a front of two miles. The formidable defenses on Hill 70, which resisted our attacks in the battle of Loos in September, 1915, and had since been improved and strengthened by every method and device known to our enemies, were carried by assault.

After storming the enemy's first line trench system on the whole of the front attacked, our troops advanced as far as the western defenses of Cite St. August, penetrating the German positions to a depth of about a mile. Besides the elaborate series of trench lines and strong points forming the defenses of Hill 70, the villages of Cite St. Elizabeth, Cite St. Emile and Cite St. Laurent, as well as the Base wood and the western half of the Hugo wood, are now in our possession. All our objectives were captured. Our casualties were slight.

During the day five hostile counter attacks were repulsed by our infantry or broken up by our artillery. One of these was carried out by troops of the division of Prussian guards. The enemy's losses, both from our attack and his unsuccessful counter attacks, were heavy.

The number of prisoners captured has not yet been ascertained, but 282, including fifteen officers, reached the collecting station this afternoon.

AVIATION

There was great activity in the air again yesterday and severe fighting took place, in the course of which nine German airplanes were brought down and five others driven out of control. Seven of our machines are missing, two of which were overtaken in a violent storm while working over the enemy's lines.

DAY REPORT

We attacked early this morning on a wide front from the northwestern outskirts of Loos to the Bois Hugo, northeast of Loos.

Our troops have carried the German first lines of defense at all points and are making satisfactory progress.

A hostile counter attack east of the Cite St. Emile was completely crushed.

Our allies gained further ground during the night northwest of Bixchoote.

Hostile raiding parties attacked our new positions last night east of Klein Zillebeke, but were completely repulsed, leaving fourteen prisoners in our hands.

The stormy weather continues. Heavy rain again has fallen.

FRENCH

PARIS, Aug. 15.—The artillery was active in Belgium, north of the Aisne, in Champagne, on both banks of the Meuse and in the Alsace mountains. We carried out a surprise attack at Four de Paris and brought back to our lines machine guns and material.

The Germans have bombarded Reims and have thrown 100 howitzer shells into Pont-a-Mousson.

In Belgium our troops made considerable progress west of the Dixmude road last night.

THE BATTLE FOR LENS

The "scissors" attack of the British against Lens is illustrated by the figures 1 and 2, which show how they now are on both sides of the city. Weeks ago the Canadians reached the southern outskirts of the city. Now their comrades are on the northern outskirts.

The extent of the drive made yesterday is shown by the arrows running to figure 3.

small posts on Valenciennes plateau was repulsed completely.

The artillery fighting continued with great activity all night on both banks of the Meuse. To the left of the river we repulsed an enemy attack west of hill 304.

GERMAN

BERLIN, Aug. 15 [via London].—Front of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.—The increased effect of our artillery fire in Flanders compelled a relaxation of the enemy's destructive fire for a part of yesterday. Great quantities of munitions were used to relieve the infantry. Only towards evening was the enemy able to resume the artillery battle with full force. The battle continued throughout the night with undiminished intensity.

English detachments which had worked their way forward over the Steenbeke, near Langemark, were destroyed by our attack. Violent local English attacks south of Frezenberg and on both sides of Hooge were repulsed. In Artois the artillery duel increased between Hulluch and Lens, especially in the morning hours today.

Front of the German Crown Prince.—On the Chemin des Dames several French attacks near Cerny failed. The thrusts had been prepared for by strong artillery fire. There were lively artillery battles on the other sectors of this and the Champagne front. On both banks of the Meuse there was a continuation of the increased artillery activity. Here, also, the good results of the fighting activity of our batteries, which at times paralyzed the enemy artillery, are recognizable.

Front of Grand Duke Albrecht.—In the Sundgau there was an increase in reciprocal firing which continued at night.

AVIATION

By their acuteness and ability the battle echelons of our aviators have developed themselves into a valuable arm of attack against trench and battery objectives. In aerial battles, which were especially numerous in Flanders, and as the result of anti-aircraft fire, twenty enemy aviators and captive balloons were shot down yesterday.

SUPPLEMENTARY

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—[Via London.]—

There have been artillery duels in Flanders, in Artois and on the Aisne, and near Verdun of varying intensity. Infantry engagements thus far are in progress only north of Lens and east of Cerny-Lancis.

RUSSO-ROUMANIAN FRONT

GERMAN

BERLIN, Aug. 15, via London.—Front of Prince Leopold: Between the northern Sereth and the Zbrocs there was an increase in firing activity. Southeast of Tarapoli Russian attacks supported by armored motor cars broke down before our positions.

Front of Archduke Joseph, south of Tretus valley, the enemy sought by strong rapid attacks to cover the retreat of the inner wing of the second Rumanian army, and the fourth Russian army. All the attacks were repulsed. Our troops pushed forward beyond Sovaia.

Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen: Our columns are pursuing in a northeasterly direction the retreating enemy in the mountain land on both sides of the Putna. On the fringe of the mountains, Stracani, northwest of Pantiliu, has been taken victoriously by our advancing troops who checked violently enemy counter attacks. In the Sereth lowlands German divisions stormed the stubbornly defended bridgehead at Balartu, situated on the western bank of the river.

In addition to heavy casualties, the Russians and Rumanians lost on the Sereth and in the mountains more than 3,000 prisoners, several big guns and numerous machine guns.

SUPPLEMENTARY

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—In Rumania good progress has been made in our pursuit in the mountains and during attacks west of the Sereth.

RUSSIAN

PETROGRAD, Aug. 15.—Fusiliers were more animated in the direction of Vilna and Tarnopol.

In the region of Oona the battles continued with less intensity. The enemy, after a series of attacks, succeeded in occupying one of the heights seven versts west of Oona.

An enemy attack in the region of the valley of the River Casimintul was repulsed by the Rumanians.

In the direction of Pokanski the enemy yesterday made no attack.

In the region of Kredochni the enemy launched an energetic attack against our positions, but after penetrating a portion of our trenches he was driven out again by a counter attack and the situation was restored.

ROUMANIAN

JASSY, Aug. 7.—[Delayed.]—The battle on the Putna, in the region of Marasesti, Aug. 6, was the greatest in the entire campaign. Nine German and one Austrian division which had been engaged in the desperate enemy mass attacks during four days and nights, aided by numerous pieces of heavy artillery, were shattered before the line, which was fiercely defended by the Russo-Rumanian troops, who in hand to hand combats and energetic counter attacks inflicted enormous losses on the enemy.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

FRENCH

PARIS, Aug. 15.—Our artillery was rather active in the region of the Vardar and towards Budimirtsa, east of Cerna. Enemy patrols, which attempted to penetrate British trenches in the valley of the Struma, were repulsed.

EX-CZAR EXILED; GOES TO SIBERIA WITH HIS FAMILY

Romanoffs to Learn Fate to Which They Have Doomed Many.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 15.—The semi-official Russian News agency announced tonight that former Emperor Nicholas and his family were removed today from the palace at Tsarskoe-Selo and that it was reported they were being transported to Tobolsk, Siberia.

N. V. Nekrasov, vice premier, said that the removal of Nicholas was decided on after a series of secret sessions of the council of ministers.

The motives of the ministers, he said, are political and military. It was decided to get Nicholas out of the way before circumstances arose making it difficult. When the former emperor reaches his destination the facts will be announced.

Use Ordinary Train

The family were spirited away early yesterday morning from Tsarskoe-Selo. Instead of the gorgeous imperial train in which Nicholas was taken to Tsarskoe-Selo from Mohilev in March an ordinary train composed of three sleeping cars, a dining car, and several third class coaches was sent. A second train was assigned to take the baggage and servants, fifty of whom accompanied the ex-emperor and his family into exile.

An hour after the train arrived Nicholas appeared on the steps of the palace dressed in a colonel's uniform, with a khaki blouse and no decorations. He entered an automobile, accompanied by Prince Dolgoroukoff and Count Benckendorff, former chief of the palace guard, and followed by the former Empress Alexandra, who was accompanied by Countess Maryskhen, her close friend and former lady of the court; all the four grand duchesses, with their maids of honor, and finally by Alexis, the former heir to the throne.

"Derzhenko," was the gigantic sailor, "Dzerzhensky," the protector of Alexis since his birth and his constant companion.

Plan to Deceive Public

The public was unaware of the transfer until late last night. In order to keep up the fiction that Nicholas was still in the palace, the guards were retained around the park and special vigilance was shown in keeping the people away. Many rumors are current in regard to the motives for the removal of the imperial family and as to its destination. The semi-official news agency says the demands for Nicholas' transfer were due to fears of the authorities that attempts would be made to liberate him in connection with a counter revolutionary movement.

Among the first to visit the scene of the disaster, where State's Attorney James G. Welch of Waukegan and officers of the electric railway, Mr. Welch said he would immediately begin an inquiry.

"I think there is no doubt it was the fault of the motor man," said B. J. Fallon, maintenance engineer of the road, "but I am not sure."

"Regardless of what the coroner does in the inquest on Friday," said State's Attorney Welch, "I shall make an independent investigation. From first evidence it seems there has been carelessness of the grossest nature."

Mr. Welch and Mr. Sonstebj were high in their praise of the efficiency of the Great Lakes jacks. Mr. Sonstebj, who was a passenger on the limited, saved himself by jumping, and was able to be of assistance in caring for the victims.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 15.—The new German food dictator, Herr von Wulffow, according to a Berlin dispatch, plans to expropriate this year's entire harvest of potatoes. He also will conserve all food necessary for human consumption.

BOOK FOR FIGHTERS

President Wilson Urges Soldiers to Read Bible, Key to Own Heart.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—Bible for American soldiers and sailors, to be given by the Scripture Gift Mission of Philadelphia, will carry a foreword by President Wilson urging the troops to read the Scriptures diligently. The president has written this inscription:

"The Bible is the word of life. I beg that you will read it and find this out for yourselves—read, not little snatches here and there, but long passages that will really be the road to the heart of it."

"You will find it full of real men and women not only, but also of things you have wondered about and been troubled about all your life, as men have been always; and the more you read the more it will become plain to you what things are worth while and what are not; what things make men happy—loyalty, right dealings, speaking the truth, readiness to give everything for what they think their duty, and most of all, the wish that they may have the real approval of the Christ, who gave everything for them—and things that are guaranteed to make men unhappy—selfishness, cowardice, greed, and everything that is low and mean."

"When you have read the Bible you will know that it is the word of God, because you will have found it the key to your own heart, your own happiness, and your own duty."

"WOODROW WILSON."

Instead of the gorgeous imperial train in which Nicholas was taken to Tsarskoe-Selo from Mohilev in March an ordinary train composed of three sleeping cars, a dining car, and several third class coaches was sent. A second train was assigned to take the baggage and servants, fifty of whom accompanied the ex-emperor and his family into exile.

An hour after the train arrived Nicholas appeared on the steps of the palace dressed in a colonel's uniform, with a khaki blouse and no decorations. He entered an automobile, accompanied by Prince Dolgoroukoff and Count Benckendorff, former chief of the palace guard, and followed by the former Empress Alexandra, who was accompanied by Countess Maryskhen, her close friend and former lady of the court; all the four grand duchesses, with their maids of honor, and finally by Alexis, the former heir to the throne.

"Derzhenko," was the gigantic sailor, "Dzerzhensky," the protector of Alexis since his birth and his constant companion.

Among the first to visit the scene of the disaster, where State's Attorney James G. Welch of Waukegan and officers of the electric railway, Mr. Welch said he would immediately begin an inquiry.

"I think there is no doubt it was the fault of the motor man," said B. J. Fallon, maintenance engineer of the road, "but I am not sure."

"Regardless of what the coroner does in the inquest on Friday," said State's Attorney Welch, "I shall make an independent investigation. From first evidence it seems there has been carelessness of the grossest nature."

Mr. Welch and Mr. Sonstebj were high in their praise of the efficiency of the Great Lakes jacks. Mr. Sonstebj, who was a passenger on the limited, saved himself by jumping, and was able to be of assistance in caring for the victims.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 15.—The new German food dictator, Herr von Wulffow, according to a Berlin dispatch, plans to expropriate this year's entire harvest of potatoes. He also will conserve all food necessary for human consumption.

The Chicago Tribune

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER JUNE 2, 1869, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT CHICAGO, ILL., UNDER ACT OF MARCH 3, 1879.

All registered articles, manuscripts, letters, and photographs sent to "The Tribune" are sent at the owner's risk, and the Tribune

THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1917.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."
—Stephen Decatur.

A CAMPAIGN OF PATRIOTISM.

A few days ago THE TRIBUNE urged the organization by the federal government and by state councils of defense of a campaign of patriotic propaganda. We are informed by Chairman Hays of the Indiana council of defense that it has a speakers' bureau, in charge of Indiana university, which is carrying on work along this line. At the same time a copy of a letter addressed to Secretary McAdoo by Mr. Delbert Haff of the Kansas City bar discloses a situation in that region similar to that which has moved THE TRIBUNE to urge immediate action. Mr. Haff writes the secretary:

"You can have no idea, unless you are circling through the country, of the damage that is being done and of the persistent undermining of the administration and the national consciousness which is being accomplished by the pro-German propaganda, the pacifists, the radical Socialists, the I. W. W. anarchists, the 'conscientious objectors,' and, lastly, the hypocrites, cowards, and traitors generally in our citizenship. Their work is persistent, their backbiting ceaseless, and their propaganda is being conducted by every known means, with an effort to create dissension, distrust, and disloyalty. They are taking advantage of the present enforcement of the selective conscription law and of the general prejudice, particularly of the women, to the drafting of their husbands, brothers, and sons.
They are insinuating that we are waging a war for the benefit of European nations; that our nation has no real interest in this war; that it is a political war; that the people are opposed to war;
that peace could easily be negotiated if our government would make the effort. They are inciting national prejudice. In fact, there is no means which the traitors, aided by the foolish and unthinking, are not employing to retard the progress of our preparations and to embarrass the administration in its efforts effectively to prosecute this war, upon which the future existence of this nation and of democracy in general absolutely depends."

We agree with Mr. Haff that "not enough is being done to counteract this active, dangerous
propaganda," and we are glad that loyal, observant Americans are waking to the situation. The report of a plan to send congressmen among their constituents after the adjournment of congress is promising, but it is not enough. The state councils of defense should take up this work vigorously, and we hope that of Illinois will act at once.

We beg, in this connection, to suggest that this campaign of education be organized on a local or neighborhood basis. The schools should be used for frequent meetings, and speakers representing every class should be enlisted for this service. In the labor movement, for example, there are scores of extremely effective speakers who are heart and soul for this war against military aristocracy. Let us make use of them. The Bar association could provide many others. The principle should be to have every viewpoint represented, and care should be taken to keep the speeches within the understanding and sympathy of the average American.

From such a campaign we should get not only an immediate benefit in the stimulation of the right
war spirit, with hearty support of the government, but also a permanent benefit through the stimulation of our sense of common American citizenship,
common interests, and common aims.

This is the time for all-Americans to be all-American, and we want to see the wage earner and the millionaire, the clerk, the professional man, realizing that the deepest ties in life bind them together in this hour of the nation's trial.

THE POPE'S APPEAL.

While the express terms of the pope's peace proposal are not yet known, an outline announced with seeming authority from Washington indicates their general character. In brief, it may be said to offer a peace of compromise, a peace without victory, and it will therefore be eagerly supported by a considerable body of opinion in all countries.
Its chief importance, however, is not likely to be in its proposals, which so far as forebadowed do not seem to include any novel solutions of the many difficulties in the path of peace. Its importance lies in the fact that it can hardly fail to force a clearer statement of purposes from the belligerent governments, and may therefore conduct them, if not to the threshold of peace, at least substantially nearer to it.

Considering the close relations between the vatican and Austria and the recent peace demonstrations of the German Centralists, it is probable, if not certain, that the pope's proposal may be taken, if not as an approach to negotiation by the governments of the central powers, at least as a friendly maneuver to permit the German and Austrian moderates to open a way past the extremists.
Without indulging in speculation on such points, interesting and important as they are, our chief interest and that of our allies must now be in the effect of the pope's action upon the German government, or at any rate in the sequel to be expected from that quarter. We and our allies have a right to await the German response. Our peace enthusiasts do not see this right, and in their eagerness for peace on any terms forget the fact upon which that right is based—namely, that German armies hold Belgium, one-tenth of France, almost the whole of Serbia, Poland, Roumania, and even a part of Russia.

German diplomacy aiming at representing Germany as on the defensive makes much use of its general offer to negotiate, ignoring the fact that the allies could not accept such a proposal while German armies were where they are except on the theory of an accomplished German military victory.
Neither our allies nor our own government are ready to enter peace negotiations on any such hypothesis.

If the pope's proposal permits or forces a statement of German terms which will remove this obstacle to a self-respecting discussion of peace
terms by the allies it will accomplish a real benefit even if its immediate result is not an actual beginning of negotiations.

There is some reason to fear, however, that despite the high aims of the pontiff his action may be used as an aid to weaken the allied operations or to further an inconsequential peace, which would be perhaps of all misfortunes the worst. Much as we abhor a continuation of devastation, it would be the greatest tragedy in the records of civilization if the terrible sacrifices made by all the peoples should fall to purchase the world a future in which such a catastrophe is not made at least less possible.

DIGGING INTO OUR POCKETS.

Representative Kitchin announces it will be necessary to add another billion dollars to the pending revenue bill—which would send the skyrocketing total up to more than $10,000,000,000. He says the United States will have to spend $14,000,000,000
during the fiscal year, and he calls it "chicken feed." He speaks of getting the additional billion as one might say please pass the mustard. One would assume he lights his cigars with gold certificates.

In discussing war taxation THE TRIBUNE does not wish to be understood as objecting to giving the government all the money it needs. We think the totals called for are probably inflated; we should be surprised if the appetite for pork had no part in the computations; but that is not the question at issue.

What is vital now are the methods for raising these enormous sums. Mr. Kitchin votes for a revenue measure with his eyes shut but with his mouth open. The country would prefer to have him shut his mouth and open his eyes. A little clear vision would enable the majority in congress to perceive that their revenue program is radically wrong.

Tax experts are agreed that the nation will have to contribute practically all its surplus to finance the war. They are also agreed that as a matter of theory it doesn't make much difference whether this surplus is obtained by the issuance of bonds or by taxation. But as a matter of practice they agree that heavy taxation is unwise.

The psychological effect of taxation explains why public borrowing is preferable. If, as Mr. Kitchin says, we are going to spend $14,000,000,000 during the fiscal year, it is obvious that most of the money will have to be borrowed anyway. There is no rhyme or reason in trying to raise an arbitrary 15 or 20 per cent of that amount by taxation.
There is no peculiar virtue in a tax total of $2,000, 000,000 or $2,000,000,000.

Men of affairs have informed congress they would support a revenue bill amounting to $1,250,- 000,000. It might be possible to add another quarter of a billion dollars to this total without producing an injurious psychological effect. But who can doubt that the proposals of Mr. Kitchin are likely to produce the blackest kind of business depression?

Wise counsels may not prevail in congress. But elections are coming.

THE EAST ST. LOUIS RIOT INDICTMENTS.

The success of prosecuting authorities in carrying through grand jury work and obtaining indictments does not delude any sensible person into an extravagant idea that the punishment will be complete and adequate.

It is satisfactory that the grand jury in St. Clair county has brought a number of persons, charged with responsibility for the East St. Louis riots and murders, within the reach of the law, but it does not follow that an American community will thoroughly purge itself of this crime against community welfare.

Grand juries represent the easiest process of the law. They are not under the influence of sentimentality, making them lean toward the isolated criminals who are facing the world for their crimes. They are not subjected to the confusion of mind which a shrewd attorney for the defense can produce.

One difficulty in the processes of American justice is found in the fact that we, easy going in our relations with malefactors, criminals, and ordinary disturbances, are so easily satisfied with an indictment.
We misinterpret it as the final end of justice, and in the period resulting before the trial is had misguided sympathies and misdirected emotions embrace the persons who are called to trial, and in a totally different mood from that produced by the outrage we watch the slipping of justice complacently.

What American communities need is implacable guilt is evident. Instead of softening and forgetting, instead of allowing time to help
the guilty and soothe the injured, a sense of resentment, tempered by a sense of justice, ought to prevail and endure.

Then punishments might more surely follow indictment. East St. Louis can do a great deal for American life if the indictments, voted in such infernal fashion, be followed by a continuing sternness, and if, where guilt is proved, punishment be severe—even if it be six months or a year from now.
The community which permitted a disgrace not only to this state but to American life remains on trial until it has brought its guilty residents through trial and to proper punishment. The authorities have acted with alacrity and determination. They have been aided by a grand jury which seems to have been impelled by a sense of public duty. Attorney General Brundage and his assistants have done as much as can be done thus far to make amends for a complete collapse of law.

The East St. Louis riots were more malignant than anything that has happened in the state for ten years. They questioned the humanity and the civilization of the state and the stability of American nature. They made the state seem as if it were inhabited by savages more primitive than the red men our colonists found.

The only remedy must be found in punishment.
That will help deter the next Illinois community which thinks of turning brute. We trust that this is not a mere beating of the dish pan without intent to wash the dishes.

Editorial of the Day

THE IMMORTALS.

Following the lead of other warring countries, the United States is establishing a big plant in France to secure war photographs of American troops, including motion pictures. The war has demonstrated strikingly the peculiar value of the latter.

How greatly we would value today motion pictures showing Napoleon's retreat from Moscow, a gala review of the Old Guard, or an intimate glance at the thousand and one absorbing sights of former periods of history!

Future generations will have this privilege which is denied us. There is satisfaction in the thought that the "golden age" of the present war will be immortal in a new service. They will march before the centuries!

California has more movie theaters than any other state

geographically far from the center of the United States.
It is fast becoming the art center of the western world.
To our mountains and forests and valleys, to our rose bushes and daisies and crystal seas, the artist comes to paint the picture of the world. The painter comes to make his ideal of perfect form and the writer comes to gather his loftiest inspirations. Then comes the musician and, after listening to the sound of the sea, the lullabies of stirring brooks, the whispering trees and the prayers of the swans, after holding his ear to the poet's heart, waiting the light of the artist's face and absorbing the soul of the sculptor for ideas of harmony, he weaves them all into one grand symphony, for music is the voice of art.

The Sidewalk Price-Fixers.

(From a review of "Play Production in America.")
The play is having its first night. It is the second entr'acte; the critics are disagreeing in the lobby and the manager is sitting in the last row wondering if he will lose all $5,000 to $10,000 which he spent on the piece before the curtain rose. But at this very time a strange and significant thing is happening. A group of gentlemen on the sidewalk in no way connected with the theater, are determining the price of admission. Do not ask why they have forgotten to look at the legend over the box-office.
"Seats 50 cents to $2.00." That does not tell the price, but merely the par value of the play. The actual price is determined by the group of gentlemen on the sidewalk, in exchange for the price of the play. If the verdict is "success," then these gentlemen extract from the box-office some scores of the best tickets for some scores of future performances, to distribute them among hotels and little holes-in-the-wall along Broadway and 42nd street.
Here the seats sell at $5.00 to $10.00 which he spent

BUSINESS PLEAS GIVE POOR HOPE FOR EXEMPTION

Appeal Board Promptly Rejects Claim of Corset Designer.

Prospects of business failure and bankruptcy will not exempt merchants who have been drawn in the draft.

When Maj. R. M. Chipfield, in charge of exemption work in this district, met the three appeal boards yesterday, it was called to his attention that at least 100 appeals were now pending from druggists, butchers, and small merchants, who asked exemption on the ground that it taken into the army they would close down their business and go into bankruptcy.

"So many failures," said a board member, "might be construed as affecting the national credit."

May Get Furlough.

"These men are not exempt," said Maj. Chipfield. "The nation must prepare for war if individual industries fail. Merchants who face failure by army service will have a chance to obtain a furlough after they are in the ranks."

Maj. Chipfield said he thought the situation might be remedied by the organization of a soldiers' relief society of citizens to help merchants to dispose of their businesses and aid men who have wives behind.

Twenty-three appeals for exemption were denied by appeal boards Nos. 1 and 2. Only two were allowed. These were from men who were the sole support of helpless dependents. The day's results were taken as an indication of the percentage of drafted men who, despite exemption claims, will have to serve in the fighting ranks.

Boards Speed Up.

To expedite their work the three appeal boards organized five joint committees. These will give preliminary consideration to exemption appeals under these headings: Trades and professions, roads and general manufactures, munitions and war supplies, physical qualifications, dependents and law.

The appeals of two Y. M. C. A. employees in army work were denied. The men were Charles Henry Wood of 6435 Kenwood avenue, storekeeper for Y. M. C. A. army supplies, and John Wesley Cruden of 10294 Wallace street, auditor of the central bureau of the national war work department of the Y. M. C. A.

The Lolette Corset company made a vain appeal that Maurice L. Swenson, a corset designer, be exempted. A letter from the company said there were few corset designers in the United States and if Swenson were forced into the army the entire factory, which employs 300 girls, must close down.

Talk of Insults.

"I have heard that members of a number of exemption boards have insulted applicants for exemption more or less grossly and used profanity," said Maj. Chipfield. "I have informed the boards that no such discourtesy will be tolerated.

"I have investigated the charge that a wealthy young man paid $1,000 to a certain board to win exemption and believe the charge unfounded. I ordered the man who made the charge to appear before me. He failed to appear."

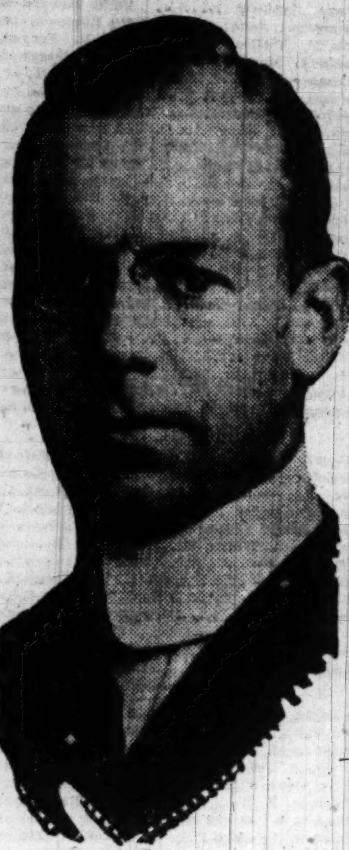

"I have had a number of complaints that men have been exempted improperly and some by political influence. The department of justice is investigating these charges."

Work Nears Finish.

Maj. Chipfield said 60 per cent of the local exemption boards will complete their work by Saturday. The others he expects to finish by next Thursday. He thinks the appeal boards will clean up their work by Oct. 1.

Lack of exemption blanks at local board headquarters, which has delayed work, was remedied last night when a special messenger arrived from Springfield with a plentiful supply.

DIRECTOR A. A. Sprague of Chicago Named to Supervise Red Cross Supply Service in Local District.

A. A. Sprague

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—A. A. Sprague of Chicago today was named divisional director for the Chicago district, to have charge of the supply service of the American Red Cross. Frank A. Bovey was named director of the Minneapolis district. Both men have volunteered their services to the Red Cross and will serve for the duration of the war without pay. The work to be directed by these men will consist of gathering surgical dressings, hospital garments, and other comforts for the American soldier which American women are expected to produce on a large scale.

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS INVADED, WILSON IS TOLD

Union Against Militarism
Cites Cases and Asks
for a Statement.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—The American union against militarism, in response to a suggestion from the president to Ann Finchel, sent to the White House today for the president's consideration a memorandum on invasions of constitutional rights, which the union declares have occurred in this country since the outbreak of the war. Affidavits and photographs were among the exhibits sent with the memorandum. In a letter to the president, which was signed by Lillian D. Wald, Crystal Eastman, Roger N. Baldwin, and L. Hollingsworth Wood, the union says:

"We are not pleading for those who desire to obstruct the war or embarrass the government. We plead for those whose minds and hearts, like yours, long for a world order in which all peoples may be really free. May we not hope the ultimate victory for the freedom of mankind is to be won not upon the battlefield, but in a new understanding between the peoples, through agitation and discussion?"

Asks Statement from Wilson.

"For this immediate high purpose, as well as for the vindication of constitutional rights on principle, we ask a statement from you now which will make it easier for the public opinion in America to play its part during the war."

The memorandum submitted to the president presents the record of eight indictments for crimes ranging from treason and conspiracy to simple misdemeanor, "for the sole offense of criticizing the government's war policy or agitating for peace."

"In Philadelphia," the memorandum says, "thirteen persons were recently arrested and charged with treason for distributing a leaflet entitled 'Long Live the Constitution of the United States,' which dealt in a lawful way with the constitutionality of conscription."

Boston's Peace Parade.

A postoffice employee in St. Paul was discharged after years of faithful service solely because he went on the bonds of three old friends charged with failing to register under the conscription act.

"The most striking single instance of violence on the part of the military was the breaking up of the peace parade in Boston on Sunday, July 1. Sailors and soldiers in uniform followed this parade with the deliberate intention of breaking it up."

"Although the war department has issued orders forbidding soldiers to interfere with public meetings, the trouble has not ceased. A public meeting was broken up by United States soldiers in Seattle as recently as Aug. 1."

Although mentioning Chicago, the memorandum did not make specific citation of cases there.

TIEUP IN FOUR STATES AUG. 20, I. W. W. THREAT

Demand Prisoners Be Freed and Fairness
to the Unions.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 15.—Unless five specific demands are granted by Aug. 20, the Industrial Workers of the World will call a general strike in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana, according to a statement today by James Rowan, district secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World. The demands are:

All class war prisoners must be released.

A ten hour day in the harvest fields.

Better sanitary conditions.

No discrimination against union men for being such.

Union halls must be allowed to conduct legitimate business of organizing workers without interference by commercial clubs of law, or corporation controlled public offices of the law.

Idaho Governor Defies I. W. W.

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 15.—The demand of the Industrial Workers of the World, that members of that organization imprisoned be released on or before Aug. 20, or a general strike will be called in the lumber camps, mines, and harvest fields, will not be met by Gov. Moses Alexander of Idaho. He made this plain in a statement he issued today.

"I have made arrangements to protect every industry in this state from any attack, first by law and second, if necessary, by force," Gov. Alexander said. "No organization can dictate the policy of the state government."

Portland Stands Pat.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 15.—Let them strike. No Industrial Workers of the World will be released here, unless by the action of the legislature, asserted O. L. Baker, mayor of Portland, when told today of the strike called by the I. W. W.

Quick Justice for Agitators.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Short shrift and summary justice for I. W. W. agitators, pacifists, and others who use the privilege of free speech to bespatter the American flag or the uniform of its fighting men is recommended by Senator Myers of Montana in a bill introduced by him today.

The bill includes a prohibition against speaking disrespectfully of the president while the country is engaged in war.

BAILIFFS SEND $25 TO ICE FUND

A contribution of $25 was sent for the BAILIFFS' ice fund yesterday from the BAILIFFS' Benevolent association. The check was forwarded by Anton J. Corman, head of the Municipal court.

The amounts received yesterday follow:

M. E. H.	$ 5.00	Bailiffs' B.
M. E. Taberner	1.00	nev. Assn.
Billy	1.00
Day's total	$ 7.00
Previously acknowledged	1,658.33
Total	$1,665.33

One of the contributions was from the author of a story about children, who decided to let the little ones have the benefit of it.

GIVE $100,000 POLICE FORCE TO E. ST. LOUIS

Business Men Begin Fight to Clean Up City of Race Riots.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Attorney General Brundage's vigorous handling of mob law in Illinois, with the promise that a large number of the rioters, black and white, are going to the penitentiary, and, if possible, some to the gallows, before the end of the year, has sobered all classes in East St. Louis. Coincident with this "return to reason," as he put it today, the responsible leaders on the Illinois side of the river have begun a rehabilitation of the civic spirit of the place.

The first tangible steps were taken today when prominent men announced to Attorney General Brundage that they have pledged themselves to raise a fund of $100,000 out of their own pockets with which to establish a real police department in the city.

East St. Louis is not only broke but the city faces damage suits aggregating millions of dollars as a result of the breakdown of law and order that culminated in the massacres of last month.

When it was found that the city was helpless and could see no way in which efficient guardians of the law could be obtained the business men came to the front, conditioned on one stipulation—that Brundage and the officials of St. Clair county make good.

As soon as the report of the grand jury reached the town last night the news was communicated to the new civic leaders and Attorney General Brundage.

PEACE RELIEF Algonquin Hospital Needs Help.

WORKERS AT THE TRIBUNE hospital at Algonquin are hard pressed this season. Nurses are scarce, as numbers of them have gone to Europe for war work. Subscriptions from those who formerly gave generously to aid unfortunate at home have gone for war relief.

During the year the contagious disease rate in Chicago has increased 67 per cent, according to official reports, and the death rate has gone up 21 per cent. There are many who cannot provide proper food for their little ones because of the high prices.

Contributions to the fund yesterday follow:

L. M. B.	$10	Rachel Ogil	$ 3
G. A. Soden	25
Total	$35	Previously acknowledged	$2,781.74
Total	$2,816.74

The contribution from L. M. B. was forwarded from Glacier National park and the one from Rachel Ogil came from Cedar Rapids, Ia.

was informed that the $100,000 would be forthcoming.

All caplases based on the race riot indictments returned by the grand jury were placed in the hands of Sheriff Logan Mallon for service at 8 o'clock this afternoon. No arrests were made today.

It is usually known that about ten members of the East St. Louis police force have been indicted, but the names have not been made public.

BE IT SPEED OR GENTLE COMFORT, RAGING BEAUTY OR SEDATENESS, HERE AMONG TEN AMAZING NEW CHALMERS FOR THE AUTUMN IS PROBABLY YOUR WISHED FOR CAR—MADE DOUBLY DESIRABLE BY INTERESTING LOW PRICES

Now that business conditions all over the country are improving at a rapid rate we announce some sixty days in advance of the calendar ten Autumn and Winter styles in Chalmers cars as follows:

A Roadster that has the "stuff" under the bonnet and a rhythm of motion in every line.

A Town Car that will set many tongues going once it gets at your front door.

A 5-passenger Touring Car that for good sense, good power at low cost has, we feel, never been equalled before in its type.

A Sedan that weighs relatively little, steers easily, and is handy to drive.

A Cabriolet that approaches the limit in comfort.

A Limousine that is done in good taste, sedate in appearance and thoroughly cozy.

A Speedster that tickles the dometer at 80 miles an hour. (This speed guaranteed.)

A 7-passenger Touring Car minus superfluous weight, yet holds the road like a locomotive.

A Town Car Landulet that reaches a new peak in smartness.

A Limousine Landulet that is bound to become one of the popular equipages of the day.

You may have seen one or two of these ten new Chalmers for the Autumn and Winter on the street. If you have you will enjoy a treat in looking them over at close range.

Good as they look on the street they appear eminently better upon minute inspection.

These cars are provoking much pleasant comment in those places where good cars are discussed. Whether you intend to buy or not, come and get posted on the trend in motor cars.

The Coal Operators and the People of Illinois Must Face the Coal Situation Together

Only by your understanding of the facts and your active co-operation can we correct a situation that is unsatisfactory to the consumer and the coal operator.

What is needed is MORE COAL.

Today "Stop Thief" is the cry when the coal man is mentioned. A condition of distrust can only ultimately react on the consumer, for our interests are absolutely dependent on your interests, and without your complete co-operation from now on we shall be unable to provide for your future coal requirements.

It is primarily a question of MORE COAL.

Coal production must be increased. Coal distribution must be improved.

The industries of the country, operating day and night to meet war demands, are consuming coal in vaster quantities than ever before.

Vast quantities of coal must be transported abroad to help our Allies. The world coal shortage is so acute that coal is selling at fabulous prices—$60 a ton in Norway and over $100 a ton in Italy.

Even if every coal mine were operating today on full time with full crews of men, it is doubtful if there would be coal enough.

But the coal mines throughout the State are operating on approximately only half time because of railroad congestion, labor shortage and labor unrest. The demand is greater than ever before. It will be even greater in the weeks to come, because the industrial and transportation requirements will be greater. This demand has come at a time when the railroads are abnormally congested with the movement of men, crops and war munitions.

We have told you the facts, showing the difficulties that confront you and us.

The operators are straining every point to overcome these difficulties to the best of their ability, but if they are to succeed, if they are to prevent a coal famine, team work must prevail. We must have your co-operation. We must have the co-operation of the public, of the railroads and the industries.

If more coal is to be distributed, harmony must prevail.

The Coal Operators of Illinois will, from time to time, present to the people the essential facts.

COAL MEN DEBATE BREAKING FAITH WITH GOVERNOR

May Overtake Contract to Submit to Cut Prices.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The coal mine operators of Illinois, who on Tuesday denounced the coal miners for not keeping their usual contract, spent yesterday afternoon trying to decide whether they should keep the contract which they signed last Saturday night with Gov. Lowden.

They adjourned at 6 o'clock without reaching a decision. They will meet again this morning.

The contract with the governor of Illinois, which they are now seriously debating whether the coal operators will decide to keep, was signed by E. T. Bent, president of the Illinois coal operators, an official of the Central Illinois operators, and Thomas T. Brewster, president of the operators of the fifth and ninth districts. These three districts include all the operators of the state.

Lawyers Sign Contract.

In addition, the contract with Gov. Lowden was signed by Ralph Crews and R. C. Butler, attorneys for the coal operators, and by four other officials and prominent members of the three coal operators' associations.

The contract with Gov. Lowden provides that "the operators agree to reserve the amount of coal necessary for consumption by the people of the state of Illinois and to sell same at prices to be determined as hereinafter provided."

It goes on to say that "the Illinois coal operators are to appoint a committee of three, who are to be granted full power to act upon behalf of all the coal operators in the state of Illinois with respect to all such questions."

Until yesterday's meeting nobody had ever suggested that the committee which signed the contract with Gov. Lowden was not authorized to act for all the operators in the state who are members of the three state associations.

Full Authority Granted.

It was originally anticipated, with certain changes and additions which have since been made, at a meeting of some forty operators held in conference with the state council of defense. At the conference it was said that the operators present represented nearly 90 per cent of the total coal production of the state.

On the motion of F. S. Peabody, then acting as chairman of the coal production committee of the national council of defense at Washington, the committee was appointed. Frank Farrington, president of the state union of coal miners, was present at that conference.

At a later meeting of the joint committee appointed by the state council and the operators, Mr. Farrington expressed grave fears that if an attempt was made to reduce the prices charged for coal at the pit mouth by Illinois operators the coal miners might strike.

Strike Develops.

Such a strike—not of miners but of wagon drivers and others laborers—became serious almost immediately after the contract with Gov. Lowden was signed.

Mr. Farrington promptly repudiated the strike and ordered the men back to work on penalty of being expelled from the union.

Last night, before starting from Springfield to answer in person a summons to Washington, Mr. Farrington sent a message to the presidents of the local unions.

Farrington's Statement.

It says: "A most serious situation that threatens the very existence of the miners' union is existing in the state of Illinois. Approximately 20,000 miners are idle in violation of joint agreement. This illegal suspension cannot be supported by district organizations. Operators flatly and positively refuse to concede increase in wages, and insist that full force of our organization be used to force men to return to work."

"I assure you that the situation is most desperate, and is subjecting our organization to disrepute. In fact, it threatens to demoralize and seriously shake the backbone of every member in the bounden duty of every member to join with the officers of the organization in their effort to force obedience to the requirements of our joint agreement, the laws of our union and the authority of the accredited representatives of our unions."

Expulsion Threatened.

In addition to ordering strikers to resume work, members who fail to respond to the request of the mine committee to aid in replacing expelled employees are classed as equally guilty with the strikers and will also be expelled, according to the order. The local presidents are also instructed not to issue any transfer cards to members until authorized to do so by Farrington.

Twenty-five drivers and fifty tip men employed at the Peabody Coal company mine at Paxville, seventeen miles from Springfield, walked out this afternoon, making idle a force of 250 diggers.

Miners' Board Approves.

The executive board of the United Mineworkers of Illinois also adopted a resolution approving the stand taken by President Farrington with reference to the striking miners in the state.

From Washington comes word that the federal trade commission spent yesterday in completing plans for taking over control of the national coal situation as soon as the president gives the word, the Peabody committee on coal production continued its effort to bring about a settlement of the coal miners' strike in central Illinois.

Strike Still On.

At the headquarters of the Peabody committee the bare announcement was made tonight that the strike had not yet been settled.

"There is nothing new yet," was the

COAL CONFERENCE

Midwestern States' Representatives Here Today Face Dispute on Method of Forcing Lower Prices.

MEMBERS of the state councils of defense of the midwest in their conference here today are faced with the prospect of a bitter conflict of opinions relative to ways and means of solving the coal emergency in the states which they represent. The conference is held on the invitation of Chairman Samuel Insull of the Illinois council to decide upon "uniform action" for bringing down coal prices and regulating the industry during the war.

Chairman William H. Hays of the Indiana council reached Chicago last night with a resolution adopted by that body in which the president is asked to use the authority he has under the food law. Mr. Hays announced that he will oppose any move for "collective action" by the states. He will urge the meeting to adopt the resolution of the Indiana council. The resolution after citing the serious nature of conditions concludes:

"Whereas, The congress has just enacted a law giving the president of the United States the authority by the processes of the measure to take control of the situation, which is largely an interstate matter; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the president be advised at once of our view of the situation and be asked in his judgment to use the authority which he has to give prompt and effective relief; be it further

Resolved, That the special committee of the council appointed to attend the joint conference present a copy of this resolution to said conference and urge upon said conference the passage of a resolution of like effect."

Representatives of the state councils of defense will be present from Kentucky, North and South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Iowa, with Gov. Harding at the head of the delegation. Indiana, Missouri, Ohio, and Minnesota. It is still possible that Tennessee, Michigan, and West Virginia may be represented.

The conference will be held in the building of the Illinois state council of national defense at 121 West Adams street.

only response to queries on the subject.

"We will go it as we can tomorrow," Chairman Peabody and officials of the United Mineworkers, who are cooperating with the production committee in the effort to adjust the Illinois difficulty, were in communication again today with President Farrington of the Illinois operators. No details were disclosed regarding these long distance conferences. It was intimated, however, a settlement of the strike is likely within a few days.

Announcement of the policy to be followed by the government for controlling the coal supply of the country, as authorized in the Pomerene amendment to the food bill, is expected almost daily.

SAYS OPERATORS BOOSTED PRICES

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 15.—That positive evidence that members of the Fifth and Ninth districts, coal bureau, Illinois, had operated to increase the price of coal was in the hands of the commission conducting an inquiry into prices in Illinois and Missouri was announced at the close of the hearing here today by Attorney General McAllister.

The attorney general said he based his contention on the testimony furnished by P. H. Greenlaw, secretary of the Fifth and Ninth bureau. Greenlaw appeared to be confused several times during the hearing on the stand.

Greenlaw admitted mailing circulars telling of the increased dependence of the coal buyers on the Fifth and Ninth districts and saying that this was a good time to get in and enjoy property.

Terms of contracts were read citing advances in prices of from 60 cents to $1 a ton in the space of a year. Asked why this advance was made, Greenlaw replied: "I don't know."

$5 for "Little Mother" Whose Salary Was Stolen

A contribution of $5 was received last night by Tam Tassawa from Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wilcox of 4734 Champlain avenue for Violet Camp, the 14 years old girl whose mother and younger sisters are dependent upon her for support, and whose first week's salary of $5 was stolen in a loop department store last Saturday. Mrs. Wilcox also asks "What else clothes the mother and little girl wear, so I can send some things."

30,000 IRISHMEN HERE VOICE PLEA FOR A REPUBLIC

One Gathering Calls on U. S. to Help Free Nation.

Chicago Irishmen voted a dual demand for free Ireland last night when more than 15,000 gathered in Brand's park and a similar outpouring in Grant park. The former was under the auspices of the United Irish societies of Chicago, the latter of the United Irish league, of which Richard Hamilton, former member of parliament from Galway, was speaker.

Mr. Hamilton declared that within three months there will be presented to the British parliament a constitution for the Irish that shall compare with any in existence. He said the recent Irish plots were never really intended as attempts at success, but the boisterous outbreaks of enthusiasm.

Call Upon Nation.

In Brand's park resolutions were adopted calling upon President Wilson, the people, and the armies of the United States to support the demand for Irish freedom.

"Ireland, too, is a nationality," says the resolution, taking as its text the president's demand that all races should be free, "and comes under the definition of President Wilson, and it is as close to our fatherland still a colony instead of a republic, our fight for seven centuries will have been lost and the proclamations that have prompted this war will go down through the ages as a mockery."

Wants Congress to Act.

Congressman Gallagher, at Brand's park, declared this country is in the war to win, and that it will be cheaper, no matter at what cost, to win than to lose. He said nothing could contribute so much to the success of the war as action by congress demanding Irish freedom.

Judge Scully, the Rev. P. X. McCabe, and others also spoke.

CHIEF AWAITS REPORT; MAY PUT LID ON O'LEARY

Abraham Slimmer, at 82, Dies; Noted for Hospital Aid.

Dubuque, Ia., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Abraham Slimmer, Jewish philanthropist and well known over Iowa, in Chicago, and elsewhere for his large gifts to hospitals, died here tonight from pneumonia poisoning. He was 82 years old and a bachelor.

When a young man Mr. Slimmer served in the war. He was a farmer and stock buyer. His business made him several times a millionaire. His gifts have been mainly to hospitals and he always required that they should treat persons of all denominations and regardless of whether they had money. He always called his wealth a trust fund. He retired from active business some years ago and came to Dubuque to live. Several nephews survive him.

Added Two Chicago Hospitals.

Two at least of Chicago's hospitals have been helped by Abraham Slimmer's wealth. They are the Maimonides, to which he has given $10,000, and the Chicago Lying-in hospital, to which he has been a friend for fifteen years. He also gave $50,000 to the Home for Aged Jews, $25,000 to the Jewish Orphan's home, and $20,000 to a home for Orthodox Jews.

When Mr. Slimmer gave his $50,000 home in Waverly to the Sisters of Mercy he lived for a time in a remodeled wooden house. His philosophy was to "give your money away while you are alive." In some respects his work recalls that of the late D. K. Pearson. It is understood, however, that a large fortune is left by his death.

FARMER FINDS WIFE AND BABY IN STRANGE MENAGE

Romance was sadly jangled yesterday in Judge Fisher's court when Claude Buckles, 18 years old, Mrs. Edna Boyle, 29, her baby, 17 months old, and her sister, 15 years old, all having been arrested in an apartment they had taken at 1700 West Jackson boulevard, appeared on charges made by Martin Boyle, a Kanoksha farmer and husband of Mrs. Boyle.

Buckles is the son of a Delavan Lake, Wis., hotel man. Mrs. Boyle's sister is said to be approaching maturity, for which Buckles admitted guilt. All had been living in a rooming house at 1346 West Harrison street until they learned Boyle was following.

Mrs. Boyle appeared in court with her infant in her arms. When it was learned Buckles is under age the whole matter was transferred to the Boys' court.

Louis C. Roberts of 4654 Milwaukee avenue, a civil engineer, committed suicide by hanging himself from an apple tree in the rear of his home yesterday.

CHARITY LOSES FRIEND AS DEATH CLAIMS IOWAN

Suit for $50,000 Started Against Former Justice

Henry Neil, former justice of the peace of Oak Park, was made a defendant in a $50,000 damage suit filed in the Circuit court yesterday by the Regan Printing company. Attorney Frank Michael of the law firm of Rosenthal, Kurl & Houlahan, who filed the suit, asserted that the action was brought to recover a printing debt contracted about ten years ago.

Cook County Realty Men Have Outing Across Lake

Members of the Cook county real estate board and their families sailed across the lake yesterday for their annual excursion and picnic. The holiday makers landed at Michigan City, Ind., and spent the day in merry-making, returning in the evening. There was music and dancing aboard the steamer.

SOMETIME But When That License for the Marriage of Barton Walker and Miss Emily Mead Is Going to Be Used, the Reporter Couldn't Find Out.

THERE'S a license issued and a young soldier man and a bride-to-be. But no one, bride included, knows when the ceremony is to take place. He is Barton Walker, 4909 Kenwood avenue, and a registrant for the second officers' camp. She is Miss Emily Burgoyne Mead of 5400 Woodlawn avenue. The license was taken out yesterday.

Mrs. William E. Mead, who on July 9 announced the engagement of her daughter, said it was quite beyond her.

"I don't know anything about it," said Miss Mead last night. "There has been no wedding and will not be for some time. You'll have to see Mr. Walker."

Mrs. Walker referred questions to her son and said he wouldn't be home until midnight; and "please don't call after 12."

Meanwhile there's a lonesome license somewhere.

Steever Sent Back Here to Arrange Cadet Training

Capt. E. Z. Steever, U. S. A., has returned to Chicago by order of the war department to arrange for training high school cadets during the coming year. This morning Capt. Steever will begin a normal course of instruction for physical directors from schools in Chicago and Kansas City, who are to instruct the pupils. The course is to be given at the Parker High school, 6800 Stewart avenue. The length of Capt. Steever's stay is uncertain.

GREET'S BOARDER IN GAS MASK AND BURNS HER DUDS

So She Sues Landlady; Contagion? How Ridiculous!

Miss Wynne Thomas of the Hyde Park hotel does not think it was contagious or complimentary in Mrs. Ella La Forge Murphy of 5000 Dorchester avenue to wear a "gas mask" when she (Miss Thomas) called. Dear, dear, what a world this is!

Miss Thomas is the responsible and seasoned head of the special delivery messenger service of the Chicago post office. Previous to the recent unpleasantness she lived in the residence of Mrs. Murphy.

A short time ago one of La boys in Miss Thomas' department in the post office had the impudence to sneeze in Miss Thomas' face. The next day the boy fell ill with diphtheria. O, dear, no! It wasn't her fault.

Treatment Averts Illness.

When Miss Thomas heard of the boy's misfortune she hurried to the contagious diseases hospital and underwent an anti-toxin treatment. The remedy was taken in time and she averted illness and in a few days was discharged as immune from the disease.

"I returned to my lodgings in the home of Mrs. Murphy," Miss Thomas said. "She was not overjoyed to see me. Instead, she lifted her hands in a gesture of horror, as if I was a leper, and said she could not possibly let me in. Then she put on a gauze mask soaked in fumigant."

Burned!

"Well, I went to the hotel. The next day I went back to Mrs. Murphy's to get my clothing and effects. They had been fumigated by the health department. And what do you suppose?"

"Why, Mrs. Murphy sweetly informed me she had burned them! Burned my clothing! And so I have used her for $200. The case comes up next Wednesday."

Here He Is, Mr. Diogenes!

The world is getting better in spite of the war. Yesterday Attorney Frank R. McCulloch counsel for Frank R. Lilla, 5501 Kenwood avenue, appeared before the board of review and stated that no tax assessment had been levied against Mr. Lilla. Attorney McCulloch suggested that the amount be fixed at $5,000 and the board readily accepted the suggestion.

SHOOP MAY NAME NEW ASSISTANTS TOMORROW

Recommendations from John B. Shoop, superintendent of schools, for a number of appointments are looked for at the meeting of the board of education tomorrow. Several assistant superintendents will be nominated. It is understood, and the creation of a new department of standards, measurements and statistics, will be asked.

The new department, it is said, is to be in charge of Samuel H. Allison, one of the present district superintendents, whose salary is to be $5,000. There are to be two assistants, whose salaries are placed at $2,500.

Frank G. Bruner of the child study department is reported to be slated for the post of director of special schools at $4,000 a year.

Peter C. Mortenson, who is now superintendent of the parental school, is said to be in line for the position of assistant superintendent of schools at a salary of $3,000.

William H. Campbell, who has a temporary position as examiner, is likely to continue permanently at the work at a salary of $5,000.

Orville F. Bright, now district superintendent, is believed to have been selected to become an examiner at $5,000.

William M. Roberts, district superintendent, said to have been selected as another assistant superintendent, with supervision of the evening and vacation schools, vocational training and apprentice classes.

TAILOR TESTIFIES COP HE FOUGHT ASKED FOR BRIBE

Louis Schwartz, a tailor, of 3733 South State street, injected vim into his trial on a charge of resisting Policeman Smart when he took the stand yesterday and charged Smart with attempting to collect a bribe.

"He tells me, this Mister Policeman," said Schwartz, "which I got it a stand on the street, after it against the law, something. But if I shall give him for $5 it's all right again. For $10 I couldn't do it if it should be my own brother, so I says I'll give him $5. I go in my store and he claps me up on the head with a club. Then I grab my shears and my woman and the boy helps."

Smart testified he was set upon by the Schwartz family when he sought to arrest Schwartz's wife. There will be a sealed verdict today.

RELEASE SLAYER OF POLICEMAN; CHIEF INCENSED

Schuetzler Orders Reward Offered for Man Who Shot Corcoran.

Albert Johnson, who shot Detective Sergeant Martin J. Corcoran on June 6, was filled with remorse when he learned that his victim probably would die, and, so doing, leave a widow and three small children. He even went so far as to write Corcoran a letter expressing his great sorrow and assuring the doomed man that he was praying night and day for his recovery.

New Corcoran is dead. Johnson has been released on a bond reduced from $25,000 to $15,000. It was learned yesterday. The bond was signed by Joseph H. Goodman, saloonkeeper at 3340 South State street, and was accepted by Municipal Court Judge John R. Carverly.

Detective Sergeant Corcoran of the Town Hall police station stopped two men carrying a bundle at Waveland avenue and Broadway. One man pulled a gun and fired point blank, the bullet entering Corcoran's groin. He fell, but rose and shot his man, Albert Johnson, in the elbow. The bundle contained stolen goods.

Remorse Grips Him.

The bullet was removed from Corcoran's wound at Alex's Brothers' hospital and it was thought he would recover. Then he had a relapse. Johnson heard of it, and of the wife and three children, and he was especially remorse gripped him and he wept and prayed and wrote to his victim.

"I pray God night and day you will recover," he wrote. "I cannot sleep. Your face is before me. I do not fear punishment, but the thought of the cowardly shot will drive me mad."

On June 9 Johnson was remanded to the county jail on charges of assault with intent to kill and burglary. His bond on the first charge was set at $25,000 and on the minor charge at $10,000. On July 5 the former was released on $10,000 bond and the other, and this was furnished and Johnson released, his case being continued till Aug. 10. On that date he failed to appear.

Corcoran died on Monday after his leg had been amputated below the knee in a vain attempt to save his life.

Police Incensed.

Much indignation was expressed in police circles when it was learned that Johnson had been released. They especially afforded an opportunity of escaping justice just when Corcoran was in a critical condition.

Chief Schuetzler and the men of Town Hall police station were especially wrath. Schuetzler has issued instructions that a reward be offered for his capture. A charge of murder has been placed against Johnson.

Funeral services for Sgt. Corcoran will be held at the residence this morning at 9:30 o'clock and then from St. Andrew's church, Addison avenue and Pauline street.

POLICE SHAKEUP INCLUDES DUFFY, CAPT. GALLERY

Michael Gallery, captain, and Thomas Duffy, lieutenant of police, who have been mentioned in State's Attorney Horne's graft investigation, are among 17 officers transferred to new stations in the police department made yesterday by Chief Schuetzler.

Gallery was transferred from Thirty-fifth street to Bright Park, at the own request, the chief said, so that he might have better transportation to and from his home. Duffy went to West Chicago avenue, a district formerly commanded by Gallery.

Stationed at Rawson street.

Captains James Madden and Thomas F. Cronin, and twenty-two sergeants, seventy-five detectives, sergeants-at-large, five patrolmen, and two constables are others shifted about. Capt. Madden is sent from Brighton Park to the Kensington station, and Cronin from the station of the woods and goes to Thirty-fifth street.

Chief Schuetzler made the reply "for the good of the service" when asked why Madden and Cronin were shifted.

Eleven detective sergeants were transferred from the bureau and twelve sent there from various stations.

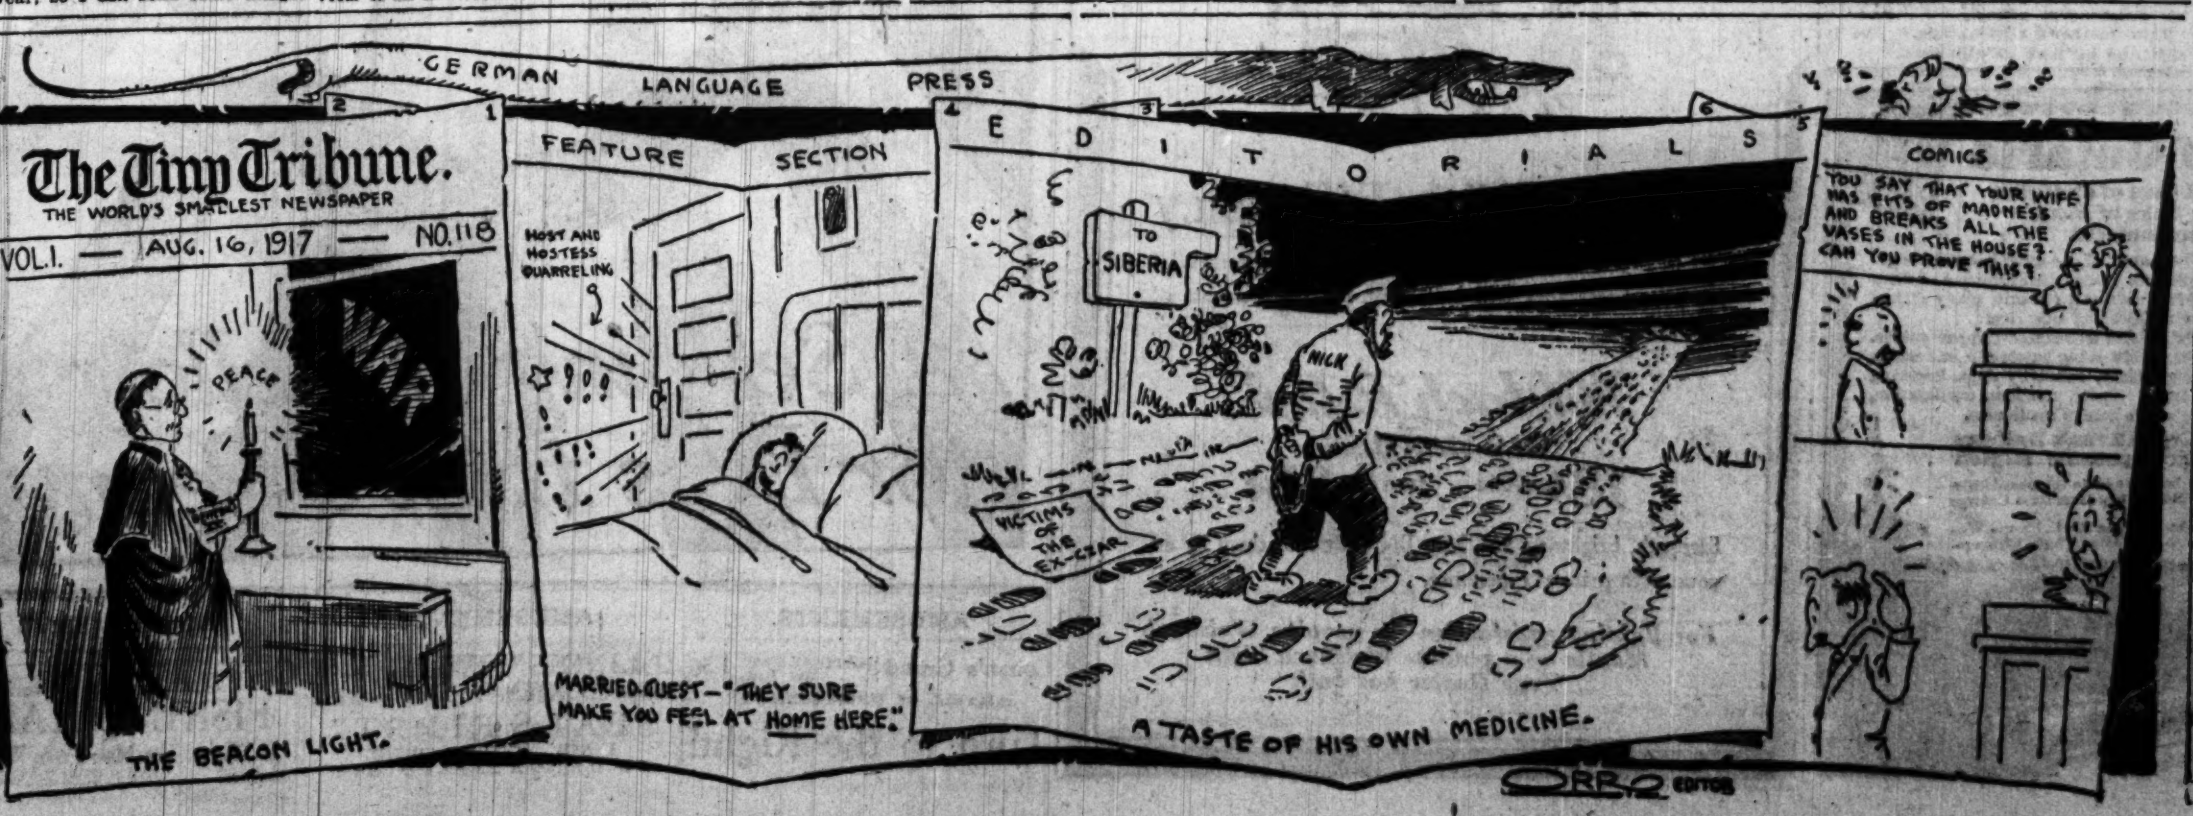

Chief Schuetzler said that he had planned to make known a list of promotions, but the civil service commission will not act upon them for several days.

ASK W. D. MAHON TO SETTLE STRIKE

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—Members of the state industrial board tonight telegraphed to W. D. Mahon of Detroit, Mich., president of the American Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, asking him to come here to help bring an end to the street car strike here. The state officials are said to believe that the quickest way to achieve a settlement is by dealing direct with the national head of the organization.

Mrs. Orville Harold Wins Diorce; Names Girl Here

Orville Harold, the grand opera tenor, who formerly operated a delivery wagon for a coffin company in Muncie, Ind., was divorced yesterday in New York from Lydia Leola Harold. Mrs. Harold accused her husband of association with a girl in Chicago called "Fredda." Harold, since his marriage, has been a delivery driver in a store on the East coast. Mrs. Harold has the custody of three children.

BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Navy blue serge and black satin—these two notes are repeated again and again in all the mid-summer collections. And if you don't like either of them we don't know exactly what you will do about it. Of course, for the first time, the one piece things, yet these are, after all, just about as serge as serge itself. With frocks of this sort, the color continues to strike up, yet it is perhaps reduced more to the position of mere trimming than it was during the early part of the season. Read embroidery, floss and soutache, embroidery, a temperate use of buttons and perhaps for the edging of deep skirt pockets and cuffs—a little more, are seen in these late models.

But the very newest thing of all is to have your cloud of georgette show some silver lining. And it is this fancy which is carried out in the frock shown today. A black satin skirt is topped by a black georgette bodice finished with satin girdle, collar and cuffs, trimmed with soutache embroidery in Chinese blue and lined down to the point where it meets the black satin with silver cloth. The effect is really charming and gives a little flip to the old, old combination of satin and georgette. The V which shows at the neck is, of course, likewise of silver cloth.

Real Love Stories

He Didn't Forget.

I WAS the youngest of a family of seven children and lived with my parents in a small town. As we were very poor, each of us went to work as soon as we were able to do so at all. When I was 12 my older sister was employed by a well-to-do family as a maid. I often went to the house where she worked to spend the afternoon with her when she was at leisure. Her mistress took an interest in me and employed me to wash dishes and help do small jobs and errands. The small compensation I received seemed like a fortune to me. I carried it happily home to my mother at the end of each week.

My employer was very kind to me and I did my best to please her. She had a son of 15 who was especially kind to me and often helped me in my tasks. One day I was assigned the rather hard task of scrubbing the floor. When I was almost finished Harry—that was his name—came in and after watching me a few minutes said, "Louise, when I am old enough I am going to marry you so you won't have to scrub any more."

His mother arrived just in time to hear the remark, and innocent children though we were, took it seriously and dismissed me at once. Shortly after this my father moved to a farm several miles away, and in just five years had become a prosperous farmer and I no longer worked away from home.

One day my chum was visiting me and we were counting eggs to take to market. Just for a lark we took our names and address on an egg and built air castles of the answer we would receive. A week later I was surprised to get a letter from the town where we had lived. The writing was strange to me, but when I opened it the story it told was stranger. Harry was now 22 and manager of a large produce company. The egg with my name on had fallen into his hands and he had answered at once. He said he had never forgotten me.

Well, to make a long story short, we are a very happy married couple, but I still insist on scrubbing my floor myself.

Mrs. A. B.

Advising Ada.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 17 and I am in love with a boy who proposed to me. I love him very much and he has shown his love for me in all ways. But mother does not approve of my marrying so young."

ADA.

"Take mother's advice, Ada. She is right, as mothers usually are."

IT is gratifying to observe that the World company has at last availed itself of the fact that in Mr. Montagu Love it has somebody worth starring. Not a matinee idol, but what I imagine the boys would term "a regular guy," who acts just as that sort of guy would. He is refreshingly free from mannerisms and affectation—on the screen, at least, neither struts nor lounges in other words, gets on the job and stays on the job with calm efficiency until the job is completed.

In the special case of "The Brand of Satan" it is not the fault of Mr. Love that the completed work stands forth as more or less of a lodge-podge. The camera men all have been working the day this picture was reviewed and what one didn't see to out the others did. The result is incoherence. Considering the fact that one can under it is admitted, it seems that what had been allowed a little more continuity.

The story is a Jekyll and Hyde affair, with a brilliant prosecuting attorney feverishly hunting a criminal. "The Stranger," who is himself. Heredity is given the responsibility for his mental condition, for while he is the child of a splendid mother, his father is a beast and murderer. When we may say you see with the greatest of pleasure, escorted finally to the electric chair, struggling horribly. An operation on the brain of the attorney—y'know this would happen—right all, and he is happy at last with the girl he has loved when his best self.

Katherine Johnson as the pathetic sweetheart of his dark hours in the underworld does some good acting. Gerda Holmes is at her best. As to the rest of the cast, the members are capable. But I don't see how they could be so much good material on so much unpleasant material. Do you?

COMMENT

"The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras," the latest official British war picture, will be shown tomorrow evening at Orchestra Hall, the program beginning promptly at 7:45. It will be presented by the Citizens Unit, the organization that has recruited the First Regiment Illinois Engineers. The proceeds will be devoted to extra equipment, medicines and various comforts.

Tribune Cook Book

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Edgington with current market materials and are infallible by law.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

You may purchase your food by liquid or dry measure, in carton or can, but some day you must learn how to purchase it by calories. Farmers' bulletin 28, of the United States department of agriculture, was the first complete table of foods giving their chemical composition and caloric value. It is good to know both. Its title is "The Chemical Composition of American Food Materials."

The Calories.

MY readers know that I have been recommending bulletin 28 for about eight years. Eight years ago most of the students in the cooking schools of the country had a copy of this bulletin. The gospel of calories, through them and a few others who but a few years back were thought "high brow" for using a word that in essence is 2,000 years old, has been rather widely spread.

Aug. 6, 1917, the department of household science of the University of Illinois issued a bulletin for the state with the title: "Experiments in Teaching Food Values." The following paragraph is significant:

"When we consider the sources of energy for body work, we use as a unit of measure the 'calorie.' This term is no longer confined to textbooks. The calorie is slowly coming to its own in the public mind; we are realizing that price and quantity are not indications of the value of most foods to the body, but that the calorie is the standard by which the actual amount of fuel can be determined. Fats, carbohydrates, and proteins furnish energy, but proteins leave unburned material which must be excreted, so for this reason as well as because of the greater expense of proteins, fats and carbohydrates are more desirable for the purpose of energy. Fat furnishes two and one-fourth times as many calories as either carbohydrates or proteins, and is therefore, the most concentrated fuel. The chief sources of fat are butter, cream, lard, bacon, salad oils, salt pork, and nuts. Carbohydrates are obtained in the form of starchy foods, such as cornstarch, potatoes, cereals, macaroni, and bananas, and in fruits, strups, and sugars."

There is a long list of menus given under the section, "Planning of Dietaries." The second experiment was "A Study of the Dietary Habits of Cafeteria Patrons," who were university students and members of the faculty of the University of Illinois. Menu cards suggested combinations for these patrons to make.

Experiment four was "A Lesson in Buying." Quantities are given in two different measures, but not in calories.

HOW NOW: Leaf lettuce and head lettuce, to be cropped as leaf lettuce, breakfast radishes, spinach, White Milan turnips, and upland cress.

TRANSPLANT NOW: Winter endive, kohlrabi, and head lettuce.

Strawberry Propagation.

At the end of August or the beginning of September transplant to the new permanent bed. Lift the young plants from the nursery bed with sufficient soil to protect the entire root system, trim the leaves, and set the plants as described yesterday.

Care of the Strawberry Bed.

After the setting of the young plants the new bed must be cultivated once or twice during the remainder of the season to keep the soil porous and free from weeds.

After the first heavy freeze usually about the end of October or beginning of November, cover the entire bed to the depth of three or four inches with straw, leaves, or straw manure.

Don't uncover before the beginning of April; then push the mulch away from the plants five inches or so and leave the mulch to be forked under about six inches when the soil is workable, about the middle of April. Be careful not to lift the roots in forking.

Cultivate again when the first blossoms appear and immediately spread a light mulch of clean straw over the entire bed. Tuck it well under the foliage and blossoms to form a clean surface for the coming berries. They must not be soiled as washing them injures the flavor. Leave a small opening for the leaves. The light mulch in left on the ground to keep down the weeds and prevent excessive evaporation of soil moisture. Hand pull such weeds as appear.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each children's saying printed. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Write on one side of the paper only. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsuitable contributions. Address bright sayings to Amy Dea, "Tribune," Chicago.

A few days ago my wife heard a knock at the door, and on opening it found a very small girl standing on the steps. "Please, lady, won't you whistle to my dog?" she said, pointing off down the street. "He's running away, and I don't know how to whistle."

My little niece, Helen, has an abundance of will power, and usually has her own way. One day she cried long and hard, for one of the neighbors' little newly hatched ducks.

Her father said to her, "Helen, did you ever hear Rosemond [her little playmate] act up like this?"

"No, papa," she replied, "but I don't see how she ever gets anything."

Bobbie was away from home to stay all night for the first time. He tried to be brave, but when bedtime came his best noticed tears creep into his eyes. "What's the trouble, little man," he asked, "are you homesick?" "No," replied Bobbie, quite truthfully, "I'm awfully sick."

Swimming Is Best Reducer for the Bust

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you missed the Antoinette Donnelly series telling how she reduced Mrs. Eva Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks, or how she added twenty pounds in five weeks to Miss Helen Barrett's weight, or how she corrected a head of dry, thin, falling hair and an eye-skip with a dash, or the article on treating Miss Hill's complexion for pimples and blackheads, send a stamped, addressed envelope and the information will be mailed to you. For other questions pertaining to beauty and hygiene will be gladly answered.

CONSTANT READER: ANY vigorous exercise that involves the muscles of the chest will help to reduce the bust and one of the best of these is swimming. The breast stroke swimming movement may be practiced on land as well as in the water. Stand with the feet about eighteen inches apart and, with arms bent at right angles and hands back to back, shoot the arms directly forward, inclining the whole body forward. Then sweep the arms and hands outward in a horizontal plane, extending them back as far as possible without straining. Walking, punching a bag, bending exercises, and, in fact, any exercise that involves activity, is to be recommended. Even more important than exercise is diet. You cannot expect to get any results from reducing if you continue to eat fat producing food. Cakes, pies, ice cream, candies, and alcoholic beverages are all tabooed. Local applications will not help at all in the work of reducing. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall mail you the directions for facial massage.

ETHEL: ENLARGEMENT OF THE thyroid gland is not always so pronounced as to be visible to the eye. It often is observed only by a tightening of collars or neck band at specified times. One of the most important functions of the thyroid gland is the destruction of poisonous substances in the blood. Another function of this gland is the regulation of fat within the body. If this gland is inactive fat accumulates and corpulence develops. If, on the other hand, the thyroid is stimulated and its secretion increased the fat thus accumulated will disappear. Avoid all excitement or irritation. Get an abundance of sleep. If the enlargement becomes more noticeable I would consult a physician if I were you, because exercises might serve only as an aggravation.

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of cuticure and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure—Adm.

Don't worry about your skin

Resinol

cleared mine completely

If you are embarrassed by a pimply, itchy, untidy complexion, try Resinol. It cleans and restores your skin properly a week and see if they do not begin to take a blessed difference in your skin.

Resinol Soaps and Resinol Creams are sold by all druggists. Try them and see how beautiful they make your skin and the skin lot for the little, too.
